

Gabriel Heimler is an artist of international renown who was born in Paris. He completed his studies at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts de Paris in 1988. In 1984 he completed the art Baccalaureate and in 1985 studied under Rudolf Lang, a pupil of Gustav Klimt. He started exhibiting at the Grand Palais in Paris while studying and was selected by Magritte's wife, Mirabelle d'Or, for the Salon de Figuration Critique. From this the doors to the Drouot Auction House opened to him and Heimler sold his first paintings.

Heimler spent the next 25 years living and working as an artist in Berlin and is still represented by the Ladengalerie. His renown increased in 1989 with his creation of a mural on the remains of the demolished Berlin Wall. The mural 'Wall Jumper' is part of the East Side Gallery and the second most visited historical monument in Berlin with 3 million visitors per year.
